

TURKEY CROSSBOW

Barnett Crossbows' new Blackspur has a few modifications that might make it a better crossbow for turkeys than the one you use for deer. It has a lower draw weight — 155 pounds — compared to most crossbows. The bow shoots 330 fps and produces 97 foot pounds of KE, according to Barnett. Also, the overall weight is about 6 1/2 pounds. MSRP, $499 at barnettcrossbow.com.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE BALL

The new iBall Wireless Trailer Hitch Camera is designed to help you place the trailer on the ball the first time. The two-part system uses a small wireless camera and an LCD that plugs into your vehicle's power port. The cam has a magnet that mounts to a metallic surface on or near the bumper, tailgate or hitch. Inside your vehicle, you can see the trailer's hitch approach the ball, correct your approach and hook up. Retail, $169.95. iballhitchcam.com.

HOOF IT

If your fishing hot spot takes some hiking to get to, Plano's new A-Series Tackle Backpack is built for your kind of fishing. The large pack carries five Plano tackle trays and has three mesh pockets on the inside and four exterior pockets. The pack has a cushioned back pad, adjustable shoulder straps and reinforced top carry-handle. MSRP, $59.99.

25-FOOT DIVER

Rapala's new Arashi Deep 25 is designed to get down to 25 feet where pressured fish or suspended summertime fish hang out. The Arashi line has been popular for their moderate rolling action that can trigger big, reactive strikes. The crankbaits have searching action and loads of tail kick, which attracts predatory fish. Still the lure is very castable due to its aerodynamic profile. Rapala is also introducing an Arashi 18 that dives to — you guessed it — 18 feet.

TAKE THE PAIN OUT OF PAINT

Most facepaints are either oil-based or grease-based, and they're heck in warm weather and terrible to remove. Carbomask offers a new clay-based solution that seems to take a lot of the pain out of paint. The clay is polymerized with water and activated charcoal for odor adsorption like a carbon suit. We checked it out and were impressed how easily it goes on, and comes off. Green, black, gray or tan. carbomask.com.

GOOD TO GO
